

Jason Richmond, LMHC, CEAP
VP, Sales Solutions
Headspace Health

Jason serves as the Vice President of Sales Solutions at Headspace Health, the most comprehensive digital mental health solution in the market. His responsibilities include managing Consultant Relations, Proposal Development and Commercial Enablement teams and supporting the overall development of go-to-market strategies.

Jason's 25-year career has included practicing clinically as a licensed mental health counselor in a variety of roles at Indiana University Health where he treated patients along the full continuum of clinical issues. Following this clinical work, he held leadership roles at two major carriers, Anthem Inc. and Beacon Health Options. In these roles, he directed teams of clinical sales and account management professionals, and designed behavioral health and employee assistance program strategies to address challenges in both local and national markets for standalone and integrated behavioral health business.

Jason earned a Master of Science in Mental Health Counseling from the University of Saint Francis. He also obtained his Bachelor's degree in Psychology from Taylor University. Additionally, he holds both a license as a mental health counselor (LMHC) in the state of Indiana as well as Certification in Employee Assistance Programs (CEAP).
